citizens, both in body and mind, and his love towards his country, commanded to strike off Nicanor's head, with his shoulder, to Jerusalem.

When he was there, and had called them together, and set the priests before the altar, he said for them that were of the 32 And shewed them vile Nicanors head, and in his hand of coat blasphemer, which with proud brags he had stretcht out against the holy temple of the Almighty.

33 And when he had cut out the tongue of that ungodly Nicanor, he commanded that they should give it by pieces unto the fowls, and hang up the reward of his madness before the temple.

34 So every man praised toward the heaven the glorious Lord, saying, Blessed be he that hath kept his own place undefiled.

35 He hanged also Nicanors head upon a tower, an evident and manifest sign unto the help of the Lord.

36 And they ordained all such a solemn decree, in no case to let that day pass in solemnity, but to celebrate the memory of the twelfth month, which in the Hebrew tongue is called Adar, the day being the thirteenth day.

37 Thus went it with Nicanor, that time forth the Hebrews had their power. And here will I cease to read the story, it is that which I desire slenderly and meanly, it is that which I desire to attain unto.

38 For as it is hurtful to drink wine alone; and as wine mingled with water is pleasant, and delighteth the taste: even so the law is the ear of the ear of the law, and here shall be an end.

39 For as it is hurtful to drink wine alone; and as wine mingled with water is pleasant, and delighteth the taste: even so the law is the ear of the ear of the law, and here shall be an end.

Elijah's coming and office.

3 And ye shall tread down the wicked: for before in the day that I shall do this, saith the LORD of hosts.

4 Remember ye the law of Moses my servant, which I commanded unto him in Horeb for all Israel, with the statutes and judgments.

5 Behold, I will send you Elijah the prophet, before the coming of the great and dreadful day of the LORD.

6 And he shall turn the heart of the fathers to the children, and the heart of the children to their fathers, lest I come and smite the earth with a curse.

... the day cometh that shall burn up and all the proud, yea, and all shall be stubble, and the day shall burn them up, saith the LORD. ... shall leave them neither root nor branch.

... into you that fear my Name shall of righteousness arise with healing in their feet, and ye shall go forth and grow up as calves of the stall.
