

ROMANS RETURN

The curtain slowly rises and, as we of 1956 watch with bated breath, those of 40 B. C. returned.

Pretty exciting, huh? "But, of course, quite impossible" you say. Oh—no—not quite impossible for that's exactly what's going to happen on April 6 at 7:00 P. M. in the high school gymnasium.

The Latin classes and former Latin students will present "A Roman Festival" in honor of Apollo and the Muses.

There will be humorous skits, acrobatic stunts, dancing, singing, accordion-playing, a gladiatorial fight, and dramatic skits. The gods and goddesses of Rome and Greco will come to life and celebrities of ancient times will perform in this big variety for all of New Bern High School and New Bern residents to see.

Admission is only 50¢ for adults and 35¢ for students.

The picture you see above this article was taken at the Roman Banquet presented two years ago.

The Romans and Grecians were two of the most interesting civilizations of the world. Any pageant, play, or festival concerning these two nations will prove to be interesting and noteworthy.

Don't forget now—1956 meets 40 B. C. at 7:00 P. M., April 6 in the high school gym.

Juniors Presented Comedy

The Jr. Class gave its presentation of the comedy play "Cracked Nuts," Friday night, March 9. Through a series of delirious situations the play proved to be hilariously entertaining. Mrs. Helen Smith was director and Terry Munford, assistant director.

Miss Drusilla Nutt, the incompetent, dictatorial aunt of Ginger and Peggy Nutt, was played by Pat Lawrence and the two nieces, the victims of Aunt Drew's harsh rules, were played by Mary Elizabeth Gardner and Martha Bledsoe.

Mrs. Garfinkle, the mournful housekeeper, as portrayed by Donna Zacks, found herself in quite a predicament, a state of hypnosis, when she accepted the job of Macrooning (chaperoning) Miss Drusilla's nieces, as interpreted by Delicious, the Mulatto maid, played by Sonia Mattocks, while she was away for a rest cure.

The intelligent Professor Abimelech Beamish, Claude Hardison, added spice with his inexhaustible supply of information on the octopus vulgaris, which escaped from the near-by zoo aquarium, and took refuge in the Nutt's fish pond. Then Magnolia Langford, the peach from Georgia, Maryanna Paul, chased Professor Beamish to the Nutt boarding house, hoping desperately to win the affection of the Professor, by announcing their secret engagement, even secret to the Professor. Consequently, this left Beamish boy, in such a terrible predicament, trying to escape the clutches of this devilish woman, that his two nephews, Pete and Billy, played by Jerry Fisher and Ronny Fochler, had to come to the rescue when they suddenly appeared on the scene as Professor Beamish's loving wife and son.

To add to the turmoil, the aristocratic Deweeses appeared on the scene as unexpected and unwanted guests. Mrs. De Weese, Shirley Brinson, and her son, Adelbert, Carl Dixon, who had tried to secret-

D. E. Members Attend Convention

Some 250 boys and girls from the Eastern, Central, and Western districts, attended the North Carolina Distributive Education Club meeting at Woman's College in Greensboro on March 2 and 3. The two day program consisted of three parts. The Friday morning session for contest entries for contestants in the speech, essay, advertising and job interview contest, Laura Walter of New Bern Club participated in the job interview contest but did not succeed in winning. The Friday afternoon session was for the introduction of clubs and candidates running for state offices. Saturday morning concluded the meeting with the election and installation of officers. Jimmy Satterfield of Burlington was elected the state president of the North Carolina Distributive Education Club.

The highlight of the meeting was the banquet and dance held at the O. Henry Hotel Ballroom. Charles Hargett of the New Bern Club gave the student response and received much recognition for his speech.

New Bern High had represented in the meeting five official delegates who were: Nancy Arthur, Iris Cuthrell, Euclid Armstrong, Charles Hargett and Micky Hearne. These members took part in casting the official votes for election of officers.

Following the meeting on Saturday the group attending the meeting from New Bern made a short tour of Greensboro and returned home late in the afternoon.

ly embezzle Miss Drusilla's money, increased the hilarity and confusion when they announced that they were staying with the Nutts for a long time.

At intervals, Confusion, the Negro "butler", added his interpretation of the Nutt family, which proved most entertaining, as portrayed by Freddie Roebuck.

All these situations resulted in a conflict that turned out to be one of the funniest comedies ever seen.

BRUIN NEWS

By BUD BLEDSOE

On Thursday, February 16, the third and final copy shipment of the 1956 Bruin was sent to the publishers. The first two shipments were in December and January. The publishing company guarantees shipment of the annuals within 10 weeks after the final deadline. However, the annuals are expected earlier than this date as they have been in previous years.

There will be approximately 184 pages with the first 7 pages being in duotone; the seven major division pages are also in duotone. Special feature of the year-book will be the four color process pictures on pages 8 and 9.

Everyone has been asking about the cover and all we are saying is that it is black and red.

We are checking and double checking through the homerooms so that everyone that has bought an annual will receive them without delay, as soon as they get here.

We are looking forward to one of the best "Bruins" that New Bern High School has ever had. It's been a lot of work and everyone that's had anything to do with it has really enjoyed a very worthwhile experience.

We are very thankful for having such competent advisors as Mrs. Roebuck and Mrs. Whitley. They have really helped make our task easier.

Addition To Girls' Physical Education

According to Dr. Spear, archery and field hockey are going to be introduced in the girls' Physical Education classes in the near future. Dr. Spear said that the purpose is to make the physical education course more interesting for the girls.

The archery range will be on the school grounds facing away from the school buildings.

Dr. Spear stated that archery and field hockey are both very common in college physical education departments and that very few high schools have this sort of activity as yet.

Dr. Spear announced that the proceeds of the Senior-underclassmen ball game held March 13 would go for the purchasing of this equipment.

"THE CREATION"

As the student body entered the high school auditorium, Wednesday, February 24, its members did not quite know what to expect. The mystery increased when our MC, Chris Bremer, immediately turned the program over to Mr. Donald Smith.

However, that particular assembly turned out to be one of the most inspiring and stirring ever presented in the New Bern High School auditorium.

By recording, James Weldon Johnson, with a splendid background supplied by Fred Waring and his Chorus, recited his own poem, "The Creation."

Several of his other poems were recited in conjunction with "The Creation."

Religious simplicity, stirring hymns, and exceptional poetical talent all combined in this one record gave the student body a program they will long remember.

CHORAL DEPARTMENT GIVES SPRING CONCERT

Spotlighting Teachers

By CAROLYN HOLLOWAY

Do you know which two, out of all the teachers in N. B. H. S., have been teaching in the New Bern School System the longest?

Heading our list we have Mrs. Margaret I. Brinson, our present Bookkeeping I and Typing I instructor, who has upheld high teaching standards for twenty-nine years. She has proved herself in the eyes of all the students (as well as the adults) with whom she has ever come in contact. Of an ambidextrous nature, Mrs. Brinson has taught a total of eleven different subjects: General Business, Business Arithmetic, Physical (World) Geography, Economic Geography, Commercial Law, Salesmanship, Shorthand, Typewriting I and II, Bookkeeping, and Latin II.

Besides direct school work Mrs. Brinson has sponsored the F.T.A. Club and Typing Club. For 11 years she has helped the Athletic staff with her sales of tickets.

Next our spotlight falls on Mrs. Laura Rhodes, who is at present teaching Latin I and Latin II.

Graduating from Greensboro College in 1924, Mrs. Rhodes started her teaching career the following fall and has taught continuously since, with an exception of about eight years, to complete a total of 24 years.

After four years of teaching in the grammar grades—fifth, sixth, and eighth—Mrs. Rhodes has taught entirely in the High School. The main subject she has taught is Latin (I and II), but she has also taught Freshman English and Algebra, World History, General Science and General Math.

Some of these subjects were taught under emergency situations when teachers were so hard to get during the post-war periods. It was during those years our Mrs. Rhodes started the Jr. Girls' Hi-Y of which she was advisor for nine years. Also she has served as advisor for other Hi-Y clubs, such as the Boys' Hi-Y.

Our hats are off to Mrs. Brinson and Mrs. Rhodes for the work and devotion you have given to the past and future of New Bern High School.

The New Bern High School Choral Department's annual Spring Concert will be held March 16, 1956 in the High School Auditorium at 8:00 P. M. This event is considered one of the highlights of the school year.

The theme will be of a patriotic nature and the Girls' Glee Club under the direction of Mr. Donald Smith with Lollie Hawkins, a Freshman member, as accompanist, will sing six choruses from "Stalbat Matu" by Pergolesi.

The Boys' Glee Club with piano accompanist Tommy Midyette, will continue the American musical theme with:

1. "Where in the World (But in America)"
2. "Your Land and My Land"
3. "Daniel Boone"
4. "America, Our Heritage"

The A Capella Choir has chosen music also following the trend of patriotism. Accompanied by Miss Annette Smith on the piano and directed by Donald Smith, the choir sings:

1. "Of Thee I Sing" by Gershwin
2. Two spirituals—"Sometimes I Feel Like a Motherless Child" and "Ain't-a-that Good News"
3. "Love and Tears" from "Song of America"
4. "This is My Country"
5. "America"

Special feature in this year's Spring Concert will be the combination of Boys' and Girls' Glee Clubs, Choir and special ensemble for a total of 140 singing voices. They will bring this year's concert to an end with:

1. "America the Beautiful"
2. "The Battle Hymn of the Republic"
3. "New Bern High School Alma Mater"

The special ensemble has been selected from the High School Band under the direction of Mr. David Walters—Trumpets: Richard Verone, Nancy Provost and Roger Toller; Snare Drum: Jimmy Hunnings; Baritone: Walter Dixon; Bass: Milton Wood.

Lighting effects and staging will be handled by Lewis Campbell, Frank Petteway and Ann Chagaris.

Youth Rings Bells

By KOLETA SHAW

Saturday night, March 3, at 7:00 p.m., the pealing of bells could be heard all over the city of New Bern.

These bells were calling a reminder to the people of this community not to forget to attend the church of their choice the following Sunday. They rang for a period of fifteen minutes from the churches of First Baptist, Christ's Episcopal, Centenary Methodist, and First Presbyterian by the youth groups of these respective churches.

Ring of bells the night before Sunday began in Switzerland very early in time. In 1950 our country began the custom and tradition in Washington, D. C. Last year Virginia rang them for their first time. From there the youth group of Centenary Methodist Church heard about it. They in turn talked to other churches so as to continue this age-old tradition.

The bells are being rung every Saturday night from 7:00 to 7:15 until after Easter. They have a two-fold purpose: to worship God and to work for world brotherhood.

Let's all stop what we're doing next Saturday night and listen to these bells as they bring us in closer relationship with God.

Good Music

By SONIA MATTOCKS

Are you among the great number of people who think that good music is stiff or has to be of a classical nature? Good music may be any music that expresses feeling or that creates a mood or a feeling of appreciation for that particular piece of music.

Now that we know what "good" music is—let's look at some of the imperatives that made it "good." It is the consequence of one expressing and relating his most inner thoughts and feelings. What his thoughts and feelings are determine the beauty and meaning of the music. To appreciate good music one must tune his mind and feelings in an equally congenial manner.

This appreciation can prove quite inspirational to a person and will in its own way help him aspire to higher goals. If one can appreciate "good" music and can tune his thoughts with those of the composer, he will find that this is a good source of knowledge, inspiration, and congenial thought.

Strange??

By CAROLYN HOLLOWAY

It is not so strange to see Sophomore girls at this time of year with a pea green expression and 10th grade boys trying to hide grins behind formaldehyde covered hands. You see, they are learning of the mysteries of an earthworm.

Brains, dorsal and ventral cords, cilia, and segments are found strewn all over the dissecting tables (and in dreams if I remember rightly). But these students aren't afraid, not them! They are just scared to death!

Oh well, they needn't worry, the worst is yet to come! Why all thoughts of Mr. Earthworm (plus everything else they thought they knew) will disappear at the sight of a dead fish or delectable frog legs.

Hold your heads up (to keep your faces out of formaldehyde) and try to think only of the fun in all of this. What fun did you say? I don't know—who do you think I am?

Four Way Test—Forgotten

By STELLA ALLEN

When taking tests or exams is the four way test forgotten in New Bern High School? I am sure all of you notice the plaques on the wall when you walk into the classroom. Do you ever stop to read them? Well, if you haven't, stop next time and read them. They ask us four important questions about the things we think, say, or do.

When you start to say something about someone stop and think about it first and ask yourself these four questions: (1) Is it the truth? (2) Is it fair to all concerned? (3) Will it build good will and better friendship? (4) Will it be beneficial to all concerned? When you are making a test, if you start to look in your book or glance at another person's paper just look up on the wall and read the Four Way Test and in the long run you will be glad you did.

"Love One Another"

By TERRY MUNFORD

"But in fact Christ has been raised from the dead, the first fruits of those who have fallen asleep. For as by a man came death, by a man has come also the resurrection of the dead." I Corinthians 15:20-21.

Easter is a time of gladness and thanksgiving that is associated with a recall of what Jesus taught, and with the remembrance of the gentleness, kindness, and love He showed to all people who came to Him. It is a time to encourage people to find real happiness and satisfaction in trying to live today as Jesus would want us to live.

Rings Have Come

The Juniors of N. B. H. S. have been really excited these past weeks, because their class rings arrived at Baxter's Jewelry Store March 7.

Anyone can look at the beaming faces of the students around here and tell which belongs to Juniors.

Glance at their arms, at the sling, 'cause they're not used to such a large and weighty ring. Weighty not only in plain speaking but because these underclassmen will bear the school's well being on their shoulders next year.

Strictly Informative

By MARY ELIZABETH POWELL

Well, here I am again with an inside look on your favorite subject. "Oh! Gee! Lend me your eraser, will you? I made another mistake." These exclamations can be heard time and again in the typing class of New Bern High School.

Typing is one of the basic and most necessary fundamentals of the business world.

Your typing and your typewriter play one of the most important roles in the business world.

When learning to type you will learn many essentials other than the mechanics of typing.

You will learn proper letter forms, the proper way to type a manuscript, how to type contracts, bills of sale, and invoices.

Typing is essential if you plan to enter the business world as a secretary, business man or woman.

For uniformity, neatness, and accuracy, typing will come to your rescue.

Even if you do not plan to enter the business world typing will be most helpful to you for taking notes and business letters you may have to write. It would be wise of you to include typing in your future schedule.

In close relation to typing, your next subject will be Shorthand. Shorthand might not be considered the easiest subject you can take, but it is one of the most interesting.

Shorthand offers one of the greatest challenges to your mind you may ever encounter. Have you ever tried working a crossword puzzle? Well, figuring out shorthand is just as much fun. I know, I'm taking it!

Shorthand causes you to exercise your mind. It causes your observant powers to become keenly aware of the smaller details.

For an invigorating, challenging, and interesting course, take Shorthand!

As a special feature for this column this month, Roderick Abbot, a member of Mrs. Willis' General Science Class, has written for us a most interesting article concerning the advantages of Science. Roderick, who is in 9-1, collects foreign coins as a hobby.

"Living in an age of science can be exciting . . . but it may also be confusing. We sometimes forget just what science is. Science isn't sleeker, faster automobiles, bigger television sets, giant electric brains, and rockets streaking to the moon. That's technology.

"The way a scientist goes about discovering a principle is called the scientific method. First, he finds an interesting problem that he wishes to know more about. He begins to collect all the material he can on the subject. When he has done this, he sorts and arranges it in logical order. From his facts he can state a working theory, or hypothesis. You will notice that the scientist has not yet stated a principle.

"The next step is to prove his working hypothesis. Proof of his theory comes through many experiments. Other scientists test the theory also. If too many exceptions

Student Parking!

By SIDNEY CORBETTE

Since the beginning of the school year, student parking has been carried out commendably well. However, there remain improvements that should be made.

First, it is against school rules for students to sit in their cars during school hours. This rule is broken daily, and each student is responsible for keeping this rule. Let's abide by it!

Second, students continue to park in the "no-parking" zones. One specific restricted zone where students continue to park is along the breezeway from the patio to the gym.

Dr. Spear says that since the area reserved for faculty-parking is never fully occupied by faculty cars, students will be allowed to park in the lower section of this area, which is across the drive from the administration building.

It will be a happy day when the "highway" has been completed and our parking area is completed and paved. This construction is supposed to be started in the near future. Most of the student cars will then be parked behind the gym.

Stickers for student cars have been received but will not be issued in the near future because of unforeseen circumstances which have arisen.

to the theory occur, then it is discarded in favor of another explanation that will stand up under rigid experimenting.

"Before any of our modern wonders could come into being, scientists have to discover the rules that govern the world around us. These rules are called principles.

"This year in general science we have tried not to learn facts just for 'facts-sake' but to use our facts to prove our scientific principles. We have also tried to learn some simple examples and some modern applications for each principle.

"One of the first principles we studied was Newton's first law which states: a body in motion tends to continue in motion in a straight line. Illustration is: water does not fall out of an open bucket when it is whirled upside down over your head. A modern application of Newton's first law of motions is a spin dryer of a washing machine using centrifugal force.

"Another illustration is: when a liquid is changed into a gas, heat is required. A simple example is evaporation. This is a cooling process as anyone knows who has ever stood in the wind in his wet bathing suit. A modern application is the manufacture of ice. The ice box must be cool for ice to be made."

Congratulations, Roderick, on a paper well done!

If any of you have a paper or story which you think will interest our readers, please turn it in to the paper and we'll see what we can do about it.

Well, see you next issue with another inside look at your favorite subject.

Fashion Show Sponsored By Garden Club

The New Bern Garden Club sponsored a pantomime fashion show Wednesday night, March 7, 1956, in the high school auditorium.

About 115 models participated in the "Spring Fashions in a Dream Garden", showing the dream clothes of a girl from 3 years of age right on through her marriage. The models were all prominent young men and women of New Bern and children and teenagers ranging from three to eighteen years of age.

There were six scenes with solos and other entertainment between each one.

The grand finale was the big wedding in which Lucia Hutchinson was the bride; Donald Paul, the groom; Donna Zacks, maid-of-honor; B. H. Oates, Jr., best man; Jennings Flowers, bride's father; Martha Pugh, matron of honor; and Mary Frances Ramsey, Sandra Roberts, Billie Barnes, Elisabeth Barnhardt, Lane Aberly, and Maryanna Paul, bridesmaids. The ushers were Kenneth Morris, James Allen Lancaster, Gus Hudson, Jim Putnam, and Cecil King.

Interviewed

By MARY ELIZABETH POWELL

Wednesday night, February 29, the program "News and Views of New Bern High School" was honored to have as its feature, an interview with Misses Jean Stephenson and Margaret Fischel.

Miss Fischel and Miss Stephenson talked to the listeners about the Home Economics department and the FHA.

The interest that was created by this department is great and enthusiastic.

It would pay us to keep our eye on this department in the future.

TONGUE WAGGIN'

Well, gang, "Spring has sprung"! And this tongue to this waggin' feels just like its got spring fever

Ann R. has got herself a date to Kinston's Junior Senior . . . Linda L. wears Bud B.'s class ring. They are not (?) going steady . . . Bunch of girls, four in fact, spent a Saturday in Greenville. Toured the college and town, so we hear. . . James Allen had a visitor from Kinston a weekend or so ago . . . Maryanna still thinks only of Carolina . . . John H. keeps us guessing. Does he you Kitty W.? . . . Kermit Guthrie won a scholarship to Carolina . . . Tournaments meant a good time to a lot of kids. Specially those with Maryanna P. . . Miss Asbell and Miss Dougherty probably sing "See Ya Later, Alligator" as they leave their apartment . . . Slew is true to De. . . Do we really wanta dance in the gym? Let's see more people showing it! . . . Nancy Matthis and J. D. Henry will hear bells ring in April . . . Pat A. wants to date a certain "soph" . . . Sara Lou has been dating one. What's with these underclassmen, girls? . . . Caps and gowns and measurements . . . We heard something about C. H.'s visitors. But since she's keeping it hush-hush we will too . . . It seems that "Space Headquarters" can be converted easily into a dance hall—at least that was the impression we got from a group of students gathered there one day after lunch . . . Helen Mullen and Jerry Sawyer make up another couple to add to the steady list. Joan Hill and Horace Lee can also be added. . . We have to drop two couples though, Pam and Durward and Betty Muse and Donald Ipock . . . Betty M. incidentally, has switched to Johnny S. . . Reports are still coming in about the Midwinters at Wake Forest. Seems that Kitty, Susan, Martha-Kay, Maryanna, Bud and James Allen still all had a wonderful time. Ya know, we're sorta envious of them . . . Pat Roe is back from Winchester, Va. Glad she decided she liked New Bern better . . . Lala Watson, a former student of N. B. H. S., payed us a visit a few weeks ago . . . Susan Mc. has found someone over at ECC . . . Erma S. and Joe C. don't make things any better by keeping us wondering . . . Barbara Cowell and Jimmy Ross have patched up things pretty well. They're going steady again . . . One of N. B. H. S.'s "Life long loves" broke apart recently. Stella A. and Billy J. We're not making any predictions but the way we've heard things, it might not hold up. They're the quiet types so no one knows . . . Sonia M. by the way, is using a Sears-Roebuck Catalog until the cushion she ordered comes in. Softly sitting Sonia! . . . Carol Hardman has her diamond sparkler from Hubert Earl Carrowan . . . There was a p. j. party over at Ramsey's one Friday night. These "night owls" who heard the latest gossip and jokes and ate, drank and made merry were, Ann R.,

Senior News

From the looks of things the Seniors can truthfully say that their day is almost here. June 7 has been set as the date for graduation. First, in preparation of this great day calling cards were ordered. Next, on March 1, under the supervision of Mrs. Roebuck, Senior measurements for caps and gowns were taken, and then, the order for announcements and invitations was sent in on March 6. Now, the Seniors are anxiously awaiting the Junior-Senior Banquet and Prom (hint to Juniors).

Anna C., Rosalie F., Anita S., Barney, Betsy F., Terry M., Billie Lou B., Craig W., Jackie G. and Pat Lee. . . Noticed the stars in Teddy H.'s eyes? We heard they were put there by a senior . . . A fad started again around here is short, short hair . . . Sophomore English classes have started their memorization of Julius Ceasar. Remember the time upperclassmen? "Friends, Romans, Countrymen, lend me your ears" . . . Jim T. and Nancy F. make for a real cute dancing couple. Maybe something else will come of being so. . . Mary Ann A. has been making a few trips to Cherry Point. Could be 'cause of Pete. . . Birthday parties really pay off, proved by Diane C. and Alice J. These gals really reaped the awards! . . . Speaking of birthday parties, Barbara Whittemore's was real nice. Dressed up as six-year olds. Understand everyone had a ball even one certain alumnus and date . . . Seems, that Mary Frances has finally decided who she'll date for the Junior Senior. Are you sure your're satisfied Ramsey? . . . Hear that Phyllis and Dickie are having those "lover's quarrels." Wonder if they're just overexerting themselves at flirting? . . . Robert wasn't lonesome while he was sick. Somebody kept him company. No names mentioned . . . Quite a few gals eagerly await the mailman. The reason? Those Wake Forest, Carolina, F. V. M. A., State, Texas and Wyoming post marks. Watch out N. B. H. S. boys! . . . Nancy B. has been getting letters from Guam . . . Who's the new Lt., Frances B.? . . Phones have been buzzing with long distant calls for several girls around N. B. H. S. . .

Guess we'll stop for a rest now 'cause spring has stopped right here on the waggin'.

"KNOWN FOR GOOD CLOTHES"

Eighth Grade Project

By JOY RICE

During the past semester the five eighth grades of Central School attended special interesting classes on Friday afternoon from 2:00 to 2:55 P. M. The classes were organized at the beginning of the year as an experiment. Each pupil entered a class of their own choice and enrollment was on a voluntary basis. They were conducted by the teachers of the eighth grades, plus the music and art teachers of the elementary grades of New Bern. Mrs. Jean Miller and Miss Marie Houser, Miss Blonnie Johnson, school librarian, and Mr. W. L. Flowers, principal of Central School, also assisted in the project.

The project was composed of eight classes. The classes were co-educational with the exception of Mrs. Ada Watson's clerical class for girls and Mr. E. L. Cavanaugh's physical education class for boys.

The music class became a choral group of 3 parts under the direction of Mrs. Miller and Mrs. Margie Rice. Miss Houser's art class modeled in clay and did other creative art works. Miss Johnson taught the fundamentals and usage of the library. Mrs. Elizabeth Disoway conducted a class studying the history of New Bern. A class of speech and drama was conducted by Miss Ruth Hallowell. A science class was under the direction of Mr. Flowers.

This project, based on the interest of the students, was successful. We are now hoping for another similar project.

Home Ec. Girls Model

One of the most interesting and fascinating assemblies this month, was conducted by the Home Economics students. They presented a "fashion show" under the direction of Misses Margaret and Frances Fischel.

Junior F. H. A. girls, Linda Woodard, Louanna Poe, Jean Powell, Vina Ferguson, Linda Day, Mary Elizabeth Norris, and Loretta Olsen presented the opening ritual.

Modeling was interspersed with a tap dance by Barbara Sautler and a ballet number by June Lewis. Carolyn Stilley served as accompanist for both numbers. This entertainment was under the direction of Miss Jean Stephenson.

Bill Scott served as narrator and described each outfit. Throughout the show background music was furnished by Betty Whealton, pianist, and Jimmy Hunnings, drummer.

Those modeling were members of the second and third year Home Economics classes. Modeling street dresses, suits, dinner dresses, pajamas, and other garments made in class.

Those modeling were:

Joyce Eborn, Amelia Padrick, Jo Parsons, Ocala Henderson, Sonja Godwin, Linda Lockey, Janice Messer, Velma Williams, Annette Anderson, Phyllis Hughes, Hazel Belangia, Linda Kornegay, Dorothy Clark, Frances Stewart, Charlene Hewitt, Donna Frie, Judy Frie, Judy Dieteman, Phyllis Hansen, Linda Taylor, Peggy Powell, Laura Hardison, Betty Jean Poke, Sarah Hansen, Cynthia Freeman, Lorraine Jackson, Lois Buckner, Joetta Weller, Mary Ann Allen, Ruby Eborn, Faye Swinson, Shelby Gaskins, Margaret Davis, Darlethor Ipock, Leona Eborn, Nancy Debruhl, Shirley Hull, Ann Swinson, Dolores Harrison, Esther Gaskins, Jo Parsons, Judy Coburn, Pat Woodard, Vilma Williams, Glenda Games, Pat Rowe, Virginia Barfield, Charlotte Purifoy, Mary Bunker, Pearl Sandlin, Phyllis Hughes, Hazel Belangia.

Penney's Department Store and the Fashion Center furnished the accessories for this occasion, and Emmie's Florist supplied the beautiful decorations.

J.V.'s End Season In Tournament

By A. D. SAWYER

For the first time in Northeastern Conference play, there has been set up a J. V. Tournament. The first being held in our own gym here at N. B. H. S. The teams that participated were New Bern, Jacksonville, Greenville and Kinston.

The first game that was held on February 20 saw the New Bern Bears down the hapless Jacksonville "Cardinals". In the second game of the night the Kinston "Red Devils" nipped Greenville by a score of 49-35.

High scorers for the "Bruins" were Jean Earl Worthington and Donald Lamb, both having 10 points.

In the second night of competition Greenville was victorious over Jacksonville.

This win put the "Greenies" in third place, and the final game of the two-day event saw Kinston "Little Red Devils" with a third quarter spark roll over New Bern "Bear Cubs".

The high light of the event was the presentation of trophies, which were given by Dr. Richard S. Spear, N. B. H. S. principal. Kinston received the championship trophy and Greenville received the consolation trophy.

The season concluded for the "Bear Cubs" with a great season.

Outstanding for the "Cubs" this season was Donald Lamb, Jean Earl Worthington, Aubrey Smith, Joe Caruso, Charles Blythe, Jack Lewis, James Ross, Roger Toler, Jimmy McKinnon, Richard Lee, J. D. Arthur, and Ronnie Knowles.

History vsfl Students

By CAROLYN HOLLOWAY

Of all the subjects I have taken (and failed) only one has ever really attracted my teaching abilities: HISTORY. And if I may I would like to render to the public at this time the way I would choose to teach this subject.

First period would include only the brightest students because it is unfair to subject we less brighter students to such an ordeal so early in the morning. I would really pour the homework on this class, and they would have to write at least 3 or 4 copies and pass them on to their fellow failers.

Second period would be sort of a rest accommodation period for teacher as well as students, and third period might just as well be also. After all, who can work so close to lunch. Besides this, I would, as the teacher, keep a box of candy bars to pass out at this time.

Fourth period would be known as "The History of Siestas" class and at this time I agree that classes should be an hour long.

Fifth period History Classes should be dropped all together. Because who can study this late in the day? Certainly not students of N. B. H. S., and after such a strenuous day of teaching I would be so worn out that it would be impossible for me to teach.

Remember! If you want me as your future History teacher! Vote! Vote! Vote!

This cartoon by Billy Jarrell may give those who did not attend the Student-Faculty Game some idea of how the teachers looked that night.

Basketball Summary

By A. D. SAWYER

The gym lay silent!! Deserted but for the high school physical education classes. The crowds that attended the Northeastern Conference games, however, are gone. As the gym stands empty we look back upon the people who performed there this season but will not return to do the same honor next season. Yes, we would like to pay tribute to the senior boys who played on the varsity squad this year for the last time. These boys who gave their all for Coach J. F. Hockaday and New Bern High, ended with the best season since 1949. Their talents won for N. B. H. S. the consolation trophy in the annual Northeastern Conference Tournament held in E. C. C. gym.

THE BOYS

James Allen Lancaster (center)—The high scorer of the season, the "dead eye" from the outer court. Most valuable to the "Peal" squad.

Duricard Hancock (forward)—Point getter, high scorer several times this season. Jump shot most effective.

Chris Bremer (forward)—Rebounder. Full of fight. A hard person to defeat.

Bud Parker (forward)—A "great" help and valuable player. Played only at the beginning of the second semester. Showed great progress in rebounding dept.

THE COACH

Coach J. E. Hockaday has certainly proved his ability. Coach Sexton and Bo Farley have taken a great notice to one of the youngest coaches in the conference. The boys on the N. B. H. S. I know are proud of him. The boys and all the fans hold him in high esteem.

Congratulations Coach Hockaday—you deserve all the credit in the world. We seniors will miss you next year.

Yes, the basketball has been put away and the whizz of flying baseballs is in the air.

Let us forget how we obtained the third place in the conference and won the consolation trophy, we have written up its account.

Nicknames!

Well here we are again with that snoopy column that "tells all," all about Nicknames, that is, and to start off here is:

- "Butterball"—Ronny Fochler.
 - "Teenie"—Ernestine Gillikin.
 - "Ruta"—Johnny Gaskins.
 - "Brain"—Mr. Jimmy Smith.
 - "Fish"—Phil Nelson.
 - "Dumac"—Sarah Taylor.
 - "Drew"—Donald Andrews.
 - "Olie"—Miss Lola Taylor.
 - "Frickie"—Catherine Lansche.
 - "Ears"—Curtis Tillman.
 - "Whip"—John Whittemore.
 - "Sam"—Sandra Roberts.
 - "Buzzy"—Wallace Holton.
- P. S. All teachers be on guard.

Hi-Y Girls Have Christmas Party

The latter part of February the Senior Girls' Hi-Y attended a belated Christmas party at Ernestine Gillikin's home. Gifts were exchanged by the members, and a joyous round of singing and playing games was enjoyed by all. Refreshments of lime ice, punch, sandwiches, cookies, and nuts were served.

TOURNAMENT

New Bern "Bears" got off to a fine start in the annual Northeastern Conference Tournament at E. C. C. by downing rival Washington Pam Pack by a score of 65 to 60.

The game was a close one with all five New Bern starters, Durward, Chris, James Allen, John B. and Robert G., hitting in the double figures. A game none of the boys will forget.

In the second game of the tournament New Bern fell prey to the Greenville Greenies, who found themselves nosed out by four points in the championship game by a score of 71 to 48.

In the final game in the tournament for the "Bears" the locals walked off with a shiny trophy (consolation) and a final curtain to the basketball season. The game found James Allen Lancaster hitting for 24 points. Final score 66 to 53. This year basketball for N. B. H. S. died on February 20, 1956.

Thinking About Easter

By IRENE FAIR

Is the "Bunny" coming to your house this year?

The "Easter Bunny" is an object of the past. As youngsters we waited and looked for Easter, with its baskets full of chocolate eggs, and other such goodies. Easter also meant new clothes and a time to show off.

As young adults we should try to realize the religious standpoint of this holiday. Sure, you can say that you know the Easter story, but are you thinking about it during this time of the year?

This glorious day brought forth the Lord from his tomb. "He Has Risen," is the tidings sent. Has He risen in your heart and mind too? Has He taken the place of candy at Easter time? Only you can find the true answer to these questions.

When Easter comes this year, put other things in the back of your mind and "think." Think back to the life of your Savior. Then think about yourself. What does Easter mean to you, the students of N. B. H. S.???

Sidewalk Art Exhibit

The New Bern Woman's Club is sponsoring a sidewalk art exhibit in front of the Episcopal Parish House on May 12 from 10 a. m. until 4:30 p. m.

There is no age limit, and anyone in New Bern and the surrounding towns is eligible to enter. Any kind of drawings, paintings, and sketches will be accepted as long as they are ready for hanging.

All work should be at the Parish House by the afternoon of May 11 and collected after 4:30 p. m. May 12.

If any further information is desired contact Miss Ethel Hughes, Chairman.

Student-Faculty Game

By SUE ALLEN

The cheerleaders sponsored the Student-Faculty basketball games Friday night, March 2. The first game started at 7:00 and saw the women teachers in action. On the starting line were Mrs. Pat Stewart, Miss Frances Fischel, Miss Lola Taylor, and Miss Jean Stephenson. Other teachers seeing much action in the game that night were Miss Sara Greene, Miss Margaret Fischel, Miss Betty Dougherty, and Mrs. Hazel Brinson. The game proved to be hilariously entertaining.

The second and final game of the night featured the men teachers. The faculty members playing in this game were Dr. Spear, Coach Hockaday, Mr. Koonce, Mr. Jimmy Smith, Mr. Donald Smith, Mr. Walters, Mr. Brinson, Mr. Charlie Bracken, and Coach Pittman.

Mrs. Ivy Chadwick served as head cheerleader for both games, and Mrs. Helen Smith was her assistant. Others on the cheering squad were Miss Louise Anderson, Mrs. Martha Gardner, and Mrs. McKinnon. The cheerleaders were dressed very attractively in their NEW uniforms of red and white.

Sale of tickets for the games was conducted by Miss Hodges, Mrs. Margaret Brinson, Mrs. Rhodes, and Mrs. Smallwood.

The women played against the J.V. girls; they wore white sailor shirts, with big black ties, and real baggy pants (bloomer style). Their names were on the back of their shirts in big red letters. The men played against some of the boys on the J. V. team.

These two games were greatly enjoyed by all those who attended, and the games certainly proved to be the most interesting of the year.

New Bern—64

Roanoke Rapids—59

The Varsity lassies won their last regular game of the '55-'56 season when they took command of the basket the entire game while playing the Roanoke Rapids girls in the New Bern gymnasium, Friday night, February 18.

Outstanding as forward for the N. B. lassies was Helen Mullen leading with 32 points; Ann Hodge was second with 13 points, and Ann Chagaris followed with 12 points.

Sylvia Styron, Craig White and Virginia Barfield were outstanding as guards.

The game marked the final performance in New Bern High basketball for seniors Sylvia Styron, Helen Mullen, and Shelby Gaskins.

ALUMNI NEWS

By A. D. SAWYER

Back again trying to reacquaint you with the people who have long since walked down the halls of N. B. H. S. Some of you Freshmen have no idea about them, "Sophs" know their names and Juniors know their faces and names and the Seniors, I hope, know most of them personally. Well here we go! North Carolina colleges first.

Journeying from New Bern we first reach Greenville and E. C. C. Last issue we introduced you to several "little missess" who graduated last year. The (? society) girls Beth Lansche, Peggy Hudson, Nancy Lily, Ann Moore, and Martha J. Hammond. Our boys of the '55 class at E. C. C. include George Slaughter, leading ground gainer last year—for N. B. H. S. football team, Ray Simpson and J. D. Henry, shutter-bug and fiance of Miss Nancy Matthis, a junior here at N. B. H. S.

The upperclassmen at E. C. C. who have graduated from N. B. H. S. include Charles Lovelace, member of the collegian band and a major in music, Jerry Peterson, president of the Collegians and also a major in music. We also know Larry Blythe, John Epperson, and Lela Ann Gardner, who now is a practice teacher at Farmville.

This is all the information we have at this time from the Pirates Den at E. C. C. in Greenville.

Next issue we will give you the low down on Wake Forest and Campbell College students who are former students at N. B. H. S.

We will say so long for now and ask that a certain party at Carolina be patient we will get to Chapel Hill in a coming issue.

Is It the Truth, Is That What You Heard?

By SUE ALLEN

How many times have you heard some of your friends talking and before they have even finished what they were saying you have gone out and told lots of your friends and made a really big thing out of something that can be so "small." That is how news gets out and around so fast; every time it is told the story expands, and by the time it has gotten around to two or three people it is really a big thing.

You may not mean a bit of harm, but you can do a lot of harm to someone. (Remember the four way test). You may not be telling what you really heard, but just stop to think about how much you can hurt someone's feelings and even pull a reputation down.

So the next time you overhear someone talking don't carry it over to other friends, and by all means don't believe all you hear, and believe only half of what you see. Think of what it can do to a friend.

ODES

ODE TO A LONELY BOOK

Oh, lonely book I wish you didn't look so sad.
I wish you were like me, happy and so glad.
What's that you say,
You've been lying there in the same old way.
For many and many and many a day.
Is that why you have that forlorn look,
Because you are an old, unused, dusty book?
I wish you didn't talk so low,
I'm trying to hear you, I can't though.
Now I hear you nice and clear.
My, you really are a dear.
You and I have such nice conversations.
I love the funny things you tell me, about other generations.
I'm glad that you are no longer a lonely book
But now have a proud and happy look.

ODE TO THE FLYING MINUTES

Oh little flying minutes, what makes you fly so fast?
Why, before I hardly turn an hour has past.
Oh little minutes why can't you stay?
Why must you hurry on your way?
Why must you be in such a hurry?
Must you always be in a big hurry?
I wish you didn't have to fly like you do.
Oh little minutes, don't you wish you didn't too?
I wish you could stay and stay,
And didn't have to rush away.
I know it's best that you leave when you should.
I've always found this way is good.
But if you could just stay,
I wouldn't have to worry much this way.
You and I could become very close,
If of my time we made the most.
Now flying minutes I still have to say good-by
But I wish you didn't have to fly.

"The Girl In The Rain"

On March 23, the Dramatics Department of N. B. H. S., under the direction of Miss Hilda (Flash) Gordon, will present the play, The Girl In The Rain.

This play is a drama of suspense in three acts written by James Reach.

Members of the cast are: Pat Hansen, as Julie the new Maid; Robert O'Neal as Thomas, the butler; Mary Catherine Shields as Alicia, mother of Wesley the hero; Pat Allen as Karen; Wesley Potter as David; Mary Elizabeth Powell as Natalie; Frances Burch as Eve; Olney Bersch as Dr. Will Moody; and Guy Dodson as Larry.

Guess Who?

This little girl blessed this earth seventeen years ago on May 27, 1938. With brown hair, blue eyes—characteristics she still has—Isn't she a doll? But she's a grown-up gal now, with a "few" exceptions: height 5'8½" and weight 138.

This lucky little girl has been chosen on Senior spotlight this month as our mystery person.

To give you a few hints—She is a frequent office visitor—in fact 1st and 5th periods every day. She was President of the Senior Girls' Hi-Y first semester, and is Secretary of the Monogram Club. She is on the basketball team, and she is in the Future Nurses' Club.

When asked what she thought of "going steady", she replied: "Okay, if you are ready."

"Mercy"—is her favorite saying and she names Charlton Heston as her favorite movie actor.

The Silver Chalice and A Man Called Peter seem to top her list as far as books are concerned.

Her favorite song hit is "No, Not Much!"

She doesn't seem to mind spending all her time serving.

She is a member of the Riverdale Methodist Church.

She names as her most precious possession—a gold I. D. bracelet—wonder why?

This girl plans to enter the University of North Carolina, when she graduates, and study nursing.

Guessed yet? Well sounds like a gal worth knowing—doesn't she?

All of us have probably wondered what to do if we ever should fall on the dance floor during a dance number. Here are the solutions:

1. Just lie there—they'll think you've fainted.
2. Start singing—they'll think you're part of the act.
3. Start mopping the floor with your handkerchief—they'll think you work there.

Attention! All boys who take Chemistry. Here's a proposition that won't take nights of study! "Chemical Analysis of a Woman!"

Symbol: Wo

Accepted atomic weight: 120

Physical properties: Boils at nothing and freezes at anything. Melts when perfectly treated and is very bitter if not well treated.

Occurrence: Found wherever man exists.

Chemical properties: Possesses a great affinity, for gold, silver, platinum, and precious stones. Violent reaction if left alone. Able to absorb a great amount of food batter. Turns green when placed beside a better looking specimen.

Uses: Highly ornamental, useful as a tonic acceleration of low spirits and an equalizer of the distribution of wealth—is probably the most effective (income) reducing agent known.

Variation: All present day models are isotopes of the original Eve.

Term Papers—To Greenville

During the first of this month some members from all of the Senior English classes went to the East Carolina College Library to get information and material for their term papers.

This journey to the library in Greenville was necessary because the college library is much larger than either our school or our city library, and information which could not be found here was obtainable there.

Students this year are quite lucky to be able to use the college library and check out and bring home books and references for study.

Do you read editorials? They are a very important part of any school newspaper. They are not just here to fill up space or to give the editor or staff a chance to blow off steam. These editorials serve their purpose by bringing out the good and the bad. They are your newspaper's means of showing you the significance of the events.

When a person has formed an opinion, he wants to put it before others. The editorial page is the place for these opinions.

Don't skip the editorials. They are important to N. B. H. S.

Little boys like soldiers.
Little girls like dolls.
Big girls like soldiers.
Big boys like dolls.

Here are some tips on how to cure hiccoughs:

1. Run madly around the school eight times without stopping, bawling loudly all the while.
2. Stand on your head, dangle your feet in the air, and sing, "Let Me Go Lover."
3. Recite the alphabet backwards nine times, with a pencil in your mouth.
4. Play six rounds of Russian roulette. If it doesn't scare you enough, play seven rounds.

Are there any other cures?

Thought for the month is:
"A man's reach should exceed his grasp.
Or what's a heaven for?"

ATTENTION LEAP YEARERS

This is a special bulletin issued by the County Game Warden in charge of rarities and concerns the Leap Year open season on all males.

"Huntresses!" The animal in season, (Allus Americanus Boyus) has been described as being sly, tricky, and unconquerable. However, after extensive study of this animal by the department in charge of rarities (of which the Allus Americanus Boyus is definitely one) (rarity, that is) and a panel of experts, the habits have been carefully watched, and by following a few simple rules, you may own a genuine Allus Americanus Boyus, the oddest (Whoops! we mean rarest!—oh, well same difference) of all rarities.

Rules for capturing a genuine Allus Americanus Boyus are:

1. Visit the natural habitats of said animal—for instance, a varied assortment of Allus Americanus Boyus can be found: (a) hanging around in the drug store; (b) Roaring down the Country Club road at all speeds; (c) Following after the new girl in town.

Never waste time looking for them at concerts, art exhibits or in various art classes. They just can't be found there.

2. Ammunition: of which only a small amount is needed. Revlon's "Living (ding, ding) Lipstick," or Lanvin's "My Sin" perfume (as suggested by your friend and mine Pinky Lee) and a few life size photos of Marilyn Monroe.

Never attempt to catch an Allus Americanus Boyus while wearing Bermuda shorts—as the animal is extremely nervous and the sight of dumb looking knees is just too much for it.

3. Setting traps? If you wish to set a trap, rather than hunt said animal down, dangle the keys to a new model car directly before his eyes. As he becomes entranced lead him slowly past a near-by group of

Allus Americanus Boyus and he'll be yours. (The reason? Well, he'll never be able to face the gang again after following a girl in broad daylight. There's no place for weaklings in the clan.)

Though these animals are considered worthless by most authorities, it is believed that with a great deal of patience Allus Americanus Boyus can be taught such novel tricks as how to dance on just its own feet, to carry on an intelligent conversation without talking only of athletics, to drive a car in a 25 mph zone without going 50 mph, and, if you're lucky, you may be able to teach him to arrive 30 minutes early (instead of late) for all your dates in order to help you wash the dishes.

Don't forget to honor these animals during "Be Kind to Dumb Animals" week, just as you honor dogs and cats.

Happy Hunting!!

Easter Parade

By CAROLYN HOLLOWAY

The latest news from Christian Dior is 'lack of changes in styles', but I disagree with him after hearing the following statements made by N. B. H. S. students:

1. Billy Lou Barnes will be seen in the Easter Parade flaunting a "flair styled" crew cut.
2. Carlton Smith will be wearing an "orchid" suit.
3. James Allen will be parading the latest fashions on stilts.
4. Juniors will be seen wearing new class rings.
5. Kitty Whitty will be exquisite in a pink poodle cloth suit to clash with her red French poodle.
6. Jo Carol beams up from under a huge picture straw hat.
7. Billy Edwards will be wearing a straw homburg in a neutral shade.
8. "Richard" Kent, Jr., will be wearing bootees of blue lace.
9. Mary Elizabeth G. will be sporting a new pair of tap shoes.
10. Next in line is Bud Parker

PRE-EASTER SERVICES

Pre-Easter services will be held Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday mornings in the School Auditorium the week before Easter. These services will start at 8:00 A. M. and last approximately until 8:30. Each of the four Hi-Y's, Jr. and Sr., will be in charge of one morning service.

wearing a flashy hand-painted tie with gravy spilled all over it.

11. "Butterball" has turned to the French Dior streamlining with the "Flat Look".

12. Ko-Ko is seen in the finals of the Easter Parade wearing "plate" size earrings.

13. Donna Zacks hasn't decided! 14. A. D. Sawyer enters our view with Mary Frances on his arm.

15. Billy Willis is wearing a green striped "Tux".

16. Kenneth M. is bringing our little preview to an end with a purple bathing suit with orange polka dots.
